Lorin Andrews Complains of Federal Officials Not Allowing Interview.

Lorin Andrews appeared in Judge Estee's court on Saturday and lodged a protest against the treatment he had received from the custodians of Lau King and Chun Hoy, the Chinese who are under arrest for being illegally in the country. He said that he and S. F. Chillingworth were the attorneys for the Chinese and that when he had asked for permission to visit them to consult with them concerning the case he was refused a private interview. He was told that he would only be allowed to see them in the presence of a representative of the United States District Attorney and attended by a stenographer. Judge Estee refused to make any order on the matter save to refer Mr. Andrews to District Attorney Baird.

MUST READ AND WRITE ENGLISH
Judge Estee on Saturday made a ruling in regard to naturalizations that will do away with the admission of persons who are not thoroughly acquainted with the English language. A man named J. Vivichaves, a native of Brazil, but an old resident of this city applied for papers and he was told to write the words "George Washington, the father of his country." His attempt at writing English resulted like this: "George Whashin The Father of is country."

Thereupon Judge Estee announced that hereafter he should require all candidates to be able to speak and write as well as read English understandingly and he refused to admit Vivichaves to citizenship. A number of others were more lucky however, and they were as follows: James W. Chapman, England; Wm. L. Lyle, Canada; John W. Davis, England; Wm. Kaughman, Germany; Joseph Tavas, Portugal; Jacinto D. Souza, Portugal; John Gouvea, Madeira; C. R. Collins, England; Thomas Christley, Wales; M. R. Medeiros, Portugal; George L. Dail, Scotland; M. Menezes, Portugal.

END OF SUPREME COURT TERM.
On Saturday, at noon, the September term of the Supreme Court came to an end. In the morning the court announced that the rules which were recently prepared by the court had been adopted. The one rule about which there was some demur on the part of many of the attorneys was materially changed in the rules finally promulgated. The part objected to having been materially modified. As adopted the rule is as follows:

"Briefs shall be filed within five days after oral argument and within ten days after submission without argument, unless further time is allowed by the court. On failure of the plaintiff in error or appellant to comply with this rule, the case or appeal may be dismissed."

The court also heard the concluding arguments in the Chinatown insurance case entitled Ye Wo Chan vs. the Magdeburg Fire Insurance Company.

Upon motion of A. L. C. Atkinson the court admitted to practice Wade Warren Thayer, member of the bar of the State of Michigan.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

In the Circuit Court on Saturday there was little business transacted. An inventory of the estate of E. V. Everett deceased was filed by W. H. Hoogs, the administrator. The principal item of the estate is $1245 in cash.

Amoy M. Anin discontinued her contest of the administration of the estate of D. B. Smith. The plaintiff had filed a contest on the ground that she knew of the existence of a will. She was a nurse in Mr. Smith's house and asserts that she knew of a will wherein she had been promised a legacy of a considerable amount.

Bruce Cartwright resigned the appointment as executor of the will of Makano.

WAIKAEA RIVER FOR GOVERNMENT

The Mill Company Will Release its Rights to the Territory.

HILO, Hawaii, October 6.—The Tribune says: The Government is making arrangements with the Waikaea Mill Co. by which the latter are to release their rights to their lease so far as the Waikaea river is concerned up to the locks. In consideration of certain concessions made by the Government to the company. The object of this move is to give the Government control of the wharfage facilities of river, so that private wharfage already there or liable to be created in the future will not interfere with the revenues of the regularly established Government wharves in the bay. At present there is a lawsuit on over the rights of Japanese squatters who have built on tide lands in the river. When this is settled the transaction between the Government and the mill company will probably be completed.

As a part of the consideration the Government agrees to keep not less than two feet of water on the bar at all times. It will also clean up the whole river as far as the transferred area extends and see that all the sharks near the mouth of the river are removed. They will also build a concrete pier from the bend of the river to the old bridge. This can be used as a boat landing and public promenade, which will take the place of the present dirty Jap houses.

The Government and the Waikaea Mill

Co. have given permission to H. Hackfeld & Co. to run out a small wharf in the Waikaea so as to land freight, but they must not come beyond a certain limit so as to interfere with navigation.

A MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.

Hilo Folks Enjoy a Dance at the Nine-Mile Terminus.

HILO, Hawaii, October 6.—The Tribune says: Mrs. Graham of Honolulu and Mr. W. A. Lambert, manager of the Hilo Railroad, gave a moonlight excursion and dance to about fifty invited guests on Wednesday evening at the Nine-mile terminus of the railway. The affair was a most enjoyable one throughout. Dancing in the new railroad restaurant continued until 1 o'clock, with an intermission for kaukau and speechmaking, which was taken advantage of by everyone. Mr. Wm. Thompson, proposed the health of Mrs. Graham and Mr. Lambert, which was responded to heartily though briefly by the latter.

Mr. Naphthal was called upon at this point to explain things in general, and especially what license he had for raking coffee. This he did satisfactorily, and incidentally eulogized the Hilo railroad, as a civilizing agent in the progress of Hilo. The guests received very pretty souvenirs of the occasion in the shape of white silk badges with the names of the host and hostess, and the date of the event inscribed thereon.

NO MORE SHARKS IN PEARL HARBOR

The Expedition Resulted in no Catches—Bonnie Dundee Went Aground.

Sunburned and tired but sharkless the sharkhunters returned from Pearl Harbor late yesterday afternoon. Seemingly the sharks have all deserted Pearl Harbor since the "doings" there two weeks ago, for yesterday of all the yachts which went to the harbor in search of the finny monsters not one caught a shark, not one even reported having seen one.

The one thrilling incident of the two days' trip was the grounding of the Bonnie Dundee on a reef off Dole Point in the harbor and the gallant rescue of her by Archie Young and his new gasoline launch. This incident occurred early on Saturday afternoon and for a time it seemed about to end seriously. The yacht had been up to the wharf near Macfarlane's and returning was skimming along with a lively breeze, enjoying a friendly brush with the Water Witch, Mr. Young's launch.

Suddenly there was a grinding under the Bonnie's bow and she came to a standstill with a bump that nearly sent her crew overboard. Captain Gere and his men had the sails down in a jiffy and signals were made to the launch to let her know of the accident and ask for her assistance. Mr. Young responded promptly and quickly a line was taken to the Water Witch. The Bonnie's bow was high out of the water, while at her stern there was from twenty to fifty feet of water. The first rope sent to the Water Witch snapped, but then a heavy cable was sent to the yacht and with a long tug the yacht was drawn smoothly off. The Water Witch then towed the Bonnie to an anchorage off Puuloa where the other yachts had dropped their mudhooks, while the launch speeded by parting cheers went back to the city.

Five yachts had come down to the harbor, the Eva, under Captain White; the Dewey, Captain Hobson; the Abbie M., Captain Dow; the Bonnie Dundee, Captain Gere; and the Maria, Captain Lee. All dropped over well-baited shark hooks and quiet reigned throughout the night. Although a careful watch was kept there were no developments and in the morning after a canvass among the yachts the universal opinion was that the sharks have deserted the harbor, temporarily at least.

Head winds and a dead calm off the harbor made the return sail a long trip. The Bonnie Dundee was the first to start from the harbor and was well at sea before the others came out. The Bonnie was caught in a calm a mile off the harbor and there the Eva caught her and was also becalmed. The Dewey and the Abbie M. were some distance to leeward but they worked up within half a mile and then also struck the calm. Finally a land breeze sprang up and the yachts came into the harbor well together.

A FAITHFUL MINISTRY.

Rev. S. H. Davis Has Been at Kona for Twenty-Eight Years.

Sceldom is a record to be found of longer or more faithful service in the ministry of the Church than that of the Rev. S. H. Davis of this diocese, says the Anglican Church Chronicle. For twenty-eight years Mr. Davis has been stationed at Kona, on the Island of Hawaii, where, in spite of many difficulties, and of bodily infirmity, he has not only ministered to the needs of a scattered congregation, but has, with his own hands, added to the mere shells of buildings that he found there, in this way completing an attractive church and a commodious rectory. Nor has Mr. Davis rested satisfied with thus providing a suitable house for the public worship of God and a place of abode for God's minister. For a number of years he has labored in earning and collecting money for the permanent endowment of the same. Already, for this purpose, nearly $5,000 has been secured, and the sum is continually being added to. The Rev. S. H. Davis is now approaching his 70th year, and although with him the morning and the noon of life are past, he eagerly looks forward to the completion of his hopes before the sun with him shall set.
